Speakers Delight at Fall Meeting

Members who attended the Fall CAV meeting this September in Charlottesville were able to return home with new insights and materials to use in the classroom.

Jack Wells, Associate Professor of History at Emory and Henry, presented "Powerful Women in Ancient Empires: Case Studies from Rome and China." In the presentation, Wells compared the ascent to power of two ancient women. First Wells offered insight into the politics of the early Roman empire through the figure of Livia, wife of Augustus and first empress of Rome. Then Wells discussed a figure less well known to members, that of Wu Zetian of the Tang Dynasty in China, a woman who rose to empress from the lowly level of concubine. Wells delved into the psyche and actions of these ambitious women, who were sometimes suspected of committing crimes to obtain power.

Professor of English and Latin at Lynchburg College, Elza C. Tiner presented, "Quomodo Scimus?: Teaching Reading, Writing, and Speaking in Latin through Research on the History of Disciplines." In her presentation, Tiner shared with members a project of her own design where students select a topic of interest and research information written on the topic by Latin authors. The project incorporates all the areas of speaking, listening, reading, writing, and culture. Professor Tiner was kind enough to give members access to project guidelines and sample projects for use in the classroom. Project information is available for download at: <http://www.lynchburg.edu/tiner>

CAV PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Salvete Omnes,

The late October snow in some parts of the state brought winter vividly to our attention. From the flotsam and jetsam of my desk, the following stanza surfaced: winter, intimate conversations, recipes, and meters, all in one six line strophe. Even better, it imitates, mutatis mutandis, Horace's Asclepiadean (bum bum | bum-di-di-bum | bum-di-di-bum | di-bum). Here is the third stanza of W.H. Auden 'In Due Season' (scanned, but I hope it doesn't detract too much from reading it):

Wínter, | thóugh, has the ríght | ténse for a loók | indoórs
Át our- | sélves, and with Fírst | Námes to sit fáce- | to-fáce,
Tíme for | réádíng of thóughts, | tíme for the trý- | íng-óut
Of nów | métres and nów | ré-ci-pes, pró- | per tíme
To re- | fléct on evénts | nóted in wárm- | er mónth's
Tíll, trans- | múted, they táke | párt in a hú- | man tále.

Imitations of Horace's meters in English often end in disaster, but not in the hands (and ears) of a master. Even more impressive is to imitate a Horatian tone in that meter. Nice job, Wystan.

After all this, though, we'll be ready to lay aside our blankets, boots, and reflection—while still using first names and sitting face to face—to plan a visit to the New River Valley for our spring meeting here at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, May 5th. Please do come. We will have the regular business meeting and a sure-to-be-lively talk. It will probably have a historical focus, as our students in ancient Roman history have formed a powerful lobby to counterbalance my own yen for verse and language: they have even convinced me to offer an advanced Latin course on Caesar's invasion of Gaul this spring. Doesn't even scan. Slippery slope.

We will also have a panel of undergraduates talking about their own research and experiences navigating college Latin and Classics—perhaps even one of your own students who is here majoring in Classics with us. Though it's a long drive for some, it's a beautiful time of year here in the southern Blue Ridge Mountains, and we'd love to host a big crowd of Latinists.

Andrew S. Becker

2012 CAV Classical Essay Contest

- The CAV Classical Essay Contest is designed to recognize those students who have submitted outstanding essays in English on a topic appropriate to each level or class.
- The contest is open to students in the public and private middle and high schools of Virginia, and homeschoolers, whose teachers are current members of the Classical Association of Virginia.
- Please note changes in the Third Year and Advanced Level categories as detailed below.
- Essays shall be submitted in English on the following topics in the following divisions:
 - First Year Latin: An Afternoon at the Roman Baths (Division A grades 6-8; Division B grades 9-12)
 - Second Year Latin: Gladiators in Roman Society
 - Third Year Latin: Slavery in the ancient Roman World
 - Advanced Latin (Latin III and above*):
 - Vergil: Mercy Granted and Withheld in the Aeneid
 - Poetry: The Anxiety of Fidelity in Roman Love Poetry
 - *History: Slavery in the ancient Roman World
- *N.B. Students who are in their third year of Latin who choose to do the general third year topic will be judged only with other Third Year students. They may also submit an essay in one of the advanced topics. This is so that we do not prevent students who are in their third year and doing one of the advanced authors from writing on the author they are currently studying. Those essays will be judged in the same pool as the advanced students.
- N.B. The history topic is open to both Latin 3 and 4+ students, and will be graded in separate groups.
- N.B. Students at Third Year and Advanced levels may submit essays in more than one category.
- Essays should be roughly 1000 words, typed double space on single sides of the page.
- The first page of the essay may include a title. The student's name should not appear on any page of the essay, and the pages of the essay should be numbered.
- Each entry must come with a COVER PAGE that shall include:
 - Name and home address of the contestant;
 - Name and address (with city or district) of the school;
 - Name of the teacher;
 - Year of Latin studied in 2011 - 12 (First, Second, etc.);
 - Student's grade level;
 - Essay topic
- Full information: www.cavclassics.org/contests.htm
- No help may be received from any person in the research, preparation, and/or writing of the essay. Books and electronic sources may (indeed, generally should) be consulted, provided that all research is completed by the student and proper acknowledgement of intellectual property is given. A list of sources and works cited should be provided at the end of the essay on a separate page. A good on-line source for help in the formal preparation of an essay is Purdue's online writing lab (OWL), which can be found at: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/search.php>
- Teachers, of course, are allowed to guide students toward the types of reference material to consult, and provide general instruction on the writing of a good essay. However, teachers must not provide any editorial feedback to the students. That is, they should not be reading and commenting on essays before the final form to be submitted.
- Essays should present a clear, coherent synthesis of material researched. A lively and well-organized essay is better than a laundry list of facts. Judges look for verve and imagination in the writing, and not merely quantity of research. To this end, it has been the policy to accept essays that are closer to creative writing exercises than to the traditional expository essay. It is to be understood, however, that the same amount of factual content and critical thought must be in evidence in whatever form the essay takes. It should be noted as well that what appears to be a creative approach begins to look less and less creative when essay after essay is written in the same pattern.
- The fee is $2.00 per student. Teachers who are not members of CAV should send their dues of $12.00 with the entrance fee. Make checks payable to the Classical Association of Virginia. Ineligible entries will be discarded.
- Please note: Teachers should inform students that, by entering this competition they are giving the CAV permission to publish their names and/or essays in any of the official publications. This permission is given unless the student makes a written request to the contrary. Winners will be announced and prizes awarded at the Spring meeting.

Postmark Deadline: February 15th, 2012

Send all entries to: Patrick Bradley
Director of CAV Classical Essay Contest
Rockbridge County H.S.
143 Greenhouse Road
Lexington, VA 24450

2012 CAV Arthur F. Stocker Latin Essay Contest

- The contest is open only to students in high schools and preparatory schools in the Commonwealth of Virginia whose teacher is currently a member of the Classical Association of Virginia and whose dues for 2011 - 2012 have been paid in full at the time when the entry is submitted
- No fee is charged for essays entered in the Latin Essay Contest
- All entries must be submitted through the Latin teacher. No entries sent directly by the student, or received from any other source than the teacher, will be accepted
- If the number of contests warrants it, there will be separate competitions and awards for students in third-year Latin and for students in fourth- or fifth- year, but this shall be entirely at the discretion of the judges.
- Each entry must be accompanied by a written statement from the teacher, specifying:
 - Both the level of Latin which the student is taking at the time of the submittal of the essay and the number of years the student has been taking Latin.
 - The author(s) and title of the basic textbook being used in the course which the entrant is taking.
- All entries must be received by April 2, 2012
- Essays must be written entirely in Latin and must be on the subject prescribed for the level of Latin the contestant is taking. The subjects for 2011 - 2012 are:
 - First Year Latin: De templo Iovis in Capitolio (100 - 200 words)
 - Second Year Latin: De laboribus Herculis (150–250 words)
 - Advanced Latin:
De illo bello memorabili apud Actium facto (200–300 words)

Receipt Deadline: April 2, 2012

Send entries to: John F. Miller
Department of Classics
University of Virginia
B018 Cocke Hall, PO Box 400788
Charlottesville, VA 22904-4788

RULES

- The first page of each entry shall be blank, except for
 - The full name and home address (including the zip code) of the contestant. Nicknames should not be used.
 - The full name (including the middle initial) of the contestant's Latin teacher.
 - The name and post office address (including the zip code) of the school in which the contestant is enrolled.
- The contestant's name shall appear in the upper right-hand corner of every page, except for the first page (Rule #1)
- The name of the Latin teacher and the name of the school shall not appear anywhere except on the first page of the entry (see Rule #1, above)
- Contests may write only on the subject specified for the level of Latin in which they are enrolled. The limitations on the number of words for each subject should be carefully observed.
- No help from any person is permitted in the preparation of this essay. Reference books on Roman literature, Roman life, and Roman history, books about Roman religion, Latin dictionaries, and Latin grammars may, of course, be used, but a bibliography identifying books that have been used, should appear at the end of the essay.
- Judging will be based both upon the content of the essay and on Latin usage, but the correctness of the Latin will be the most important single factor. Contestants should make a conscious effort to incorporate as many as possible of the new syntactical features of the Latin languages that they have encountered for the first time on the level of Latin for which they are currently enrolled. The syllabi for Latin I, Latin II, and Latin III that have been prepared for the use of students taking the Latin Tournament examinations should be consulted. (See pages 7-8 of this newsletter.)
- The names of the winners in each competition and of those receiving honorable mention will be announced at the spring meeting of the CAV in May.
- All entries become the property of the CAV and will not be returned to the writer after judging. Contestants who want to keep a copy should make one before submittal. The decision of the judges will, in all cases, be final.

N.B.I: Students who plan to enter the Latin Essay Contest might find a visit to the following Latin chatroom amusing and instructive: <http://chat.yle.fi/ylerradio1/latini/index.php>

N.B. II: Teachers should inform students that, by entering this competition they are giving the CAV permission to publish their names and/or essays in any of the official publications. This permission is given unless the student makes a written request to the contrary.

2012 CAV LATIN TOURNAMENT

THE EIGHTY-FIRST ANNUAL LATIN TOURNAMENT: March 26-30, 2012

EXAMINATIONS:

The exams are designed to test the student's mastery of the Latin language and, in the case of the upper level exams, some basic literary matter at that particular level of study. Exams will consist of questions on vocabulary, forms, syntax, (where appropriate) rhetorical and poetic devices, and reading passages for translation to show active and accurate comprehension. Each exam will include 75 multiple-choice questions and a 25-point Latin passage for translation into English.

TESTS OFFERED:

Latin I

Latin II

Advanced Latin Prose: 3-4-5+ for non-AP, non-Cicero students

Vergil: based upon AP syllabus of Aeneid, levels 3-4-5+

Advanced Latin Poetry: new last year based upon authors such as Catullus, Ovid, Horace, et al.

A complete syllabus for the Tournament can be found online at: <http://www.cavclassics.org>

BASIC RULES:

1. Students in secondary and intermediate public ("alpha"), independent and private ("beta"), and charter, magnet, and governor's ("gamma") schools in Virginia are eligible.
2. All teachers entering contestants MUST be members of the CAV. Membership of ALL teachers entering students will be enforced. Non-members may join by sending in dues with the registration form. After November 1, 2011, dues are $15 per person. If this is your first year teaching Latin in Virginia, you are eligible for one year's free membership.

FEE:

$3.00 per student, non-refundable.

Free registration for any school registering for CAV Exams for the first time or that has not registered in past five years.

ENTRY DEADLINE:

The registration form with entry fee must be postmarked no later than February 17, 2012. Only the CAV Tournament Registrar may waive this deadline, which will be done ONLY if there is time to accommodate the request.

CHANGES:

Any arrangements for a change in the date or location for administering the exam must be made directly with the CAV Tournament Director. The only acceptable reason for a change in dates shall be (1) a school's vacation, in which case an earlier exam date will be granted, or (2) inclement weather on the scheduled date, in which case the exam must be administered April 2 or 3 (and express mailed to the director). If your school has spring vacation March 26-30, please schedule your testing for March 19-23 (or earlier). If your school has a two weeks spring break spanning both of these weeks, please contact the tournament director to make scheduling arrangements.

ADMINISTRATION:

The exam will be given at the school of the participants and may be given on any ONE of the days from March 26-30, 2012. Schools on vacation that week may request to take the exam the previous week. All students in the same level of Latin MUST be tested at the same time. The Latin teacher MAY administer the exams.

BETWEEN REGISTRATION AND TESTING:

1. By March 2 you (the Latin teacher) will receive an e-mail or fax confirmation of your registration. Please write your e-mail address (and those of all teachers registering students at your school) neatly and correctly on the registration form so the registrar can reach you via e-mail. If you do not receive an e-mail, call or e-mail the CAV Tournament Registrar IMMEDIATELY.

2. Expect the tests and testing directions to arrive by March 16 (or earlier if you request an earlier testing date) OR notify your test administrator of their arrival date. Check with that person on that date.
 3. If materials have NOT been received, call or e-mail the CAV Tournament Registrar IMMEDIATELY.
 4. Before the exam, get the “Teacher-Prepared List of Students Being Tested” from the examination packet. Type or neatly print a list of each student’s name, which exam he/she is taking, and (for Advanced Latin Prose, Vergil, and Advanced Poetry students) level of Latin (and return it to the test administrator, if using one). This provides a testing roster, which will be mailed with tests for accurate spelling of names of award recipients.
 5. If there is bad weather on your prearranged date of testing, contact the CAV Tournament Director IMMEDIATELY for permission to give the test within the next two class days back in school. He needs to plan for late-arriving results.

TOURNAMENT REGISTRAR:

Kathy Smerke
4211 Whitacre Rd.
Fairfax, VA 22032
Phone: 703-766-4997
E-mail: ksmerke@gmail.com

TOURNAMENT DIRECTOR:

Ian Hochberg
4211 Whitacre Rd.
Fairfax, VA 22032
Phone: 703-766-4997
E-mail: ihochberg@sssas.org

AWARDS:

First place winners will receive an engraved Jefferson Cup; second and third place winners will receive medals. Certificates of Honorable Mention will also be awarded as the Tournament Director deems appropriate. If a large number of students is registered on an advanced level of testing, awards may be subdivided by year of Latin. If the number is small, there may be fewer than three awards. Awards will be announced at the spring meeting of the CAV; if for any reason the awards themselves may not be available at that meeting, they will be mailed as soon as possible. Three plaques will be awarded: one to the public (“alpha”) school with the most points for first-second-third places, one to the independent (“beta”) school with the same distinction, and lastly one to the charter, magnet, or governor’s (“gamma”) school with the same distinction.

N.B. I: Please be advised that the CAV will not publish in its newsletter or on its website the names of student winners whose families do not wish to make that information public. If your school or school system maintains data on which students may or may not allow their names to be published, please advise Ian Hochberg. It is the responsibility of each individual Latin teacher to inform the tournament director if any students opt out of having their names listed among the winners in the newsletter.

N.B. II: Ian Hochberg is willing to send, free of charge, past issues of CAV Tournament Exams by e-mail to anyone indicating what (s)he would like: Latin I, Latin II, Advanced Prose, or Vergil. Just e-mail Ian at: ihochberg@sssas.org.

The Lurlene W. Todd Teacher of the Year Award

The Lurlene W. Todd Teacher of the Year Award recognizes outstanding Latin teachers and professors in Virginia. All teachers and professors of Latin and Classics who have taught successfully for at least three years in a public or private school (elementary, middle, high, college, or university) in Virginia and who are members in good standing of the Classical Association of Virginia by November 1st of the academic year of the award competition are eligible for consideration. Anyone with a personal or professional knowledge of the teacher's qualifications may nominate a teacher for consideration. These persons may include an administrator, supervisor, fellow teacher or colleague, CAV member, student, or parent. Nomination forms and requirements are available at: cavclassics.org/awards.htm
The completed application and nomination forms, including all additional requirements must be postmarked by April 1, 2012 to:

The Wayne W. Wray Student Scholarship

The Classical Association of Virginia is pleased to offer a $500.00 scholarship to the student who best exemplifies the principle on which the organization was founded over a century ago: a love of and the promotion of the classics. This award is not based on financial need and there may be more than one nominee per school. Any CAV member may nominate a student who is taking or has completed at least four years of Latin (wherever that may fall - 10th, 11th, or 12th grade). Should a sophomore or junior be selected, the scholarship will be held for disbursement until the senior year. Nomination forms can be found at: cavclassics.org/awards.htm Nominations must be postmarked by March 15, 2012 to:

CAMWS NEWS

Submitted by Liane Houghtalin,
VP for CAMWS, VA

CAV AND CAMWS, A SWEET COMBINATION

The Classical Association of the Middle West and South (CAMWS) urges you to think BIG. CAMWS announces the Bridge Initiative Grant program. Be a “pontifex” (bridge-maker) at your school. Apply for a CAMWS BIG ($50 to $500) today, and use it to promote Latin in your school and community. Caristia grants (up to $50) are also still available. For information on projects and funding, visit <http://www.camws.org/cpl/funding.php> or ask CAMWS Vice President for VA, Liane Houghtalin (lhoughta@umw.edu).

CAMWS is always a great deal, but for any first-time teacher who joins in 2011-2012, the deal is even sweeter: a discounted first-time teacher membership rate of $25 this year, next year (2012-2013), and the year after (2013-2014). Included with CAMWS membership is a subscription to The Classical Journal and the CAMWS Newsletter (now online). As a member, you would also be invited to the CAMWS meeting this spring, March 28 - 31st, in Baton Rouge, LA. Please visit the CAMWS website at <http://www.camws.org/> to learn more.

THE ITALY OF CAESAR AND VERGIL: A WORKSHOP FOR TEACHERS JULY 12 - 23, 2012

Sponsored by the Vergilian Society, this travelling workshop for High School Latin teachers will combine classroom sessions in successful pedagogical practices with fascinating and relevant site visits that illuminate the lives and works of Caesar and Vergil. Morning study sessions will provide ideas and skills to enrich both beginning and advanced courses, with a focus on the readings and abilities required by the revised Advanced Placement syllabus. Afternoon site and museum visits will contextualize the writings of our authors elucidating the common themes of Caesar’s Commentarii and Vergil’s Aeneid. All teachers will acquire interpretive insights and instructional strategies for these essential authors. Sites include: Rome (Forum, Ara Pacis, Palatine), Temple of Apollo and Atrium of the Sibyl at Cumae, Lake Avernus, Tomb of Vergil, Sperlonga, Pompeii, Lavinium, Herculaneum and Vesuvius. Graduate Credits and Continuing Education Units are available through Miami University of Ohio. Ohio residents qualify for a 50% discount on graduate tuition. Workshop will be co-directed by an award-winning high school teacher and an archaeologist: Amy Leonard, The Walker School & Steven Tuck, Miami University. Cost: $2595 including all room and board, all transportation during the program, site and museum admissions, a packet with classroom materials, site plans, maps, readings and selections from ancient texts, and attendance certificate. Scholarships are available. For further information, applications, and detailed itinerary, see the Vergilian Society website: <http://vergil.clarku.edu/> or email Steven Tuck at tucksl@muohio.edu. Scholarship deadline is March 1, 2012. Application deadline is April 1, 2012.

LEARN LATIN THIS SUMMER AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

JUNE 10-JULY 7, 2012 (grammar) & JULY 9-AUGUST 3, 2012 (reading)

- 2 Years of College-Level Latin in 2 Months
- Read Cicero, Catullus, Ovid, Vergil, and others
- No previous knowledge of Latin required
- 12 Credit Hrs from UVA or No-Credit Option

The Department of Classics at the University of Virginia will offer Latin as one of the University's Summer Language Institutes. The program is an intensive series covering 2 years of college-level Latin. Those who have taken first-year Latin may enroll for the 2nd half only. Students may also choose a non-credit study option.

The Summer Latin Institute represents an excellent opportunity for motivated students to achieve rapid proficiency in Latin, but also serves as a wonderful review for the experienced. The student-faculty ratio is low with 6 instructors and usually 10 to 20 students.

The Institute begins with four weeks on grammar fundamentals including readings and composition. In the second four weeks, students read from classical Latin poetry and prose at the intermediate level. There are six hours of formal instruction per day and supplementary review sessions in the evenings. On the whole the program is demanding and the pace is sustained; the mission of the Institute's faculty is to prepare serious students to read Latin texts with increasing facility by the end of the eight-week session.

Past undergraduates from numerous institutions in the U.S. and abroad have applied credit earned at the Institute toward degrees in Classics and related disciplines. Many graduate students from various fields have completed our intensive program and continue to use Latin to further their educational and research objectives.

2012 - 2013 HOGAN PRIZE Announced at William and Mary

The College of William and Mary announces the continuation of the Hogan Prize in Classical Studies made possible by a bequest by William Johnson Hogan, distinguished alumnus of the College. For the academic year 2012 - 2013 there will be available a grant of $1,000 to an entering student who will have completed with distinction at least three years of Latin or Greek at the time of his/her high school graduation. This award is, of course, contingent upon successful admission to the college. The grantee will be expected to enroll during the freshman year in at least three courses in the Department of Classical Studies (two of these must be either Latin or Greek). The grant may be continued to sophomore year and beyond if the student earns a grade of "A" or "B" in courses taken and elects to continue study of Greek or Latin. Preference will be given to students contemplating a concentration in the Dept. of Classical Studies.

Applications are available online at: <http://www.wm.edu/classicalstudies/hoganapplication.pdf>
